...presentation skills...

The key to successful business presentations is a confident demeanor, supported by a clearly-stated message. Developing that confidence takes practice - regular practice, in front of an audience. At POWERtalk you will have the opportunity to practice your speech style and content and the use of speaking aids such as microphones and data projectors, until you know you can face any speaking challenge with confidence.

...leadership...

The ability to guide and motivate teams is a sought-after personal and professional ability. POWERtalk training develops and reinforces leadership skills, with opportunities to use them in practical situations. A structured personal growth path within the management of the organization enables individual members to enhance existing skills - and to learn new ones.

...and this is your invitation...

Membership of POWERtalk clubs is open to anyone who is interested in learning POWERtalk skills. Clubs meet every two weeks, at a time and place suitable for their members.

At each meeting you will have the opportunity to put new skills into practice - and be given feedback on your performance and progress.

Each assignment undertaken is real-life, each is under the guidance of more experienced members, and each is evaluated, before the next level of learning.

...meeting management...

Whether it's business or politics, charity or church council, your understanding and command of proper procedure and effective reporting can guarantee your success. Through POWERtalk Parliamentary Procedure Training and organization management practice, members are offered constructive growth in the essential skills needed to run for office - and then run the office.

...conference and function planning...

Successful conferences require the superior planning skills which come from experience. POWERtalk offers the opportunity to learn all facets of conference planning, promotion and co-ordination through practical, hands-on involvement in local, national and even international conferences and functions.
